Elizabeth Richardson

(707) 363-2743 | emrichardson820@gmail.com
GitHub username: elizabethr25

EDUCATION

The University of Arizona, Eller College of Management                                                     Tucson, AZ
Bachelor of Science in Marketing                                                                                                    May 2014
- Relevant Coursework: Finance, Business Communication, Marketing

WORK & LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

The University of Arizona Coding Boot Camp                                                     Phoenix, AZ
Teacher Assistant                                                                                                    June 2018—Present
- Mentor 25 students with varying degrees of prior coding experience to achieve course goals
- Assist student mastery of JavaScript, jQuery, Node.js, Firebase, React.js, Git, and code organization
- Debug daily in-class activities, homework, and projects with students to resolve errors
- Enforce course expectations and provide resources to succeed through tutoring and office hours

The University of Arizona Coding Boot Camp                                                     Scottsdale, AZ
Full-Time Student                                                                                                    March 2018—Present
- Learned the fundamentals of web development in rigorous 12 week course
- Collaborated with classmates in teams on three different projects to refine and showcase knowledge
- Utilized problem solving to debug code and gain confidence in various programming languages
- Explored multiple languages including: HTML5 / CSS3, JavaScript, jQuery, Node.js, and more

Echo Global Logistics                                                                                             Scottsdale, AZ
Senior Account Executive                                                                                        May 2014—Nov. 2017
- Managed the shipping and logistics needs of multiple national accounts to ensure quality service
- Organized and implemented processes to increase productivity and efficiency among account teams
- Communicated across multiple departments to work through challenges and highlight success
- Analyzed market trends to spot quote and price shipments appropriately

Trader Joe's                                                                                                             Napa Valley, CA
Store Intern                                                                                                              May 2012—Aug. 2012
- Formulated average shopping pattern by tracking 100+ customers throughout the store
- Developed and executed a plan to re-merchandise the bread section
- Marketed the bread section in a manner that increased sales in the bread section by 10%
- Helped guests navigate the store, worked with Kaizen mentality to enhance shopping experience

SKILLS & ACTIVITIES

Certification: The University of Arizona Continuing Education - Full Stack Web Developer
Involvement: Alpha Kappa Psi Professional Business Fraternity
Interests: Reading, traveling, cooking, outdoor activities